

Busbud Launches New Bus Booking App on Android

New Android App Lets Travelers Book Tickets for 325,000+ Bus Routes Worldwide

MONTREAL - JUNE 23 2015 - After the launch of its iOS app last month, Busbud now caters to Android users with its latest mobile app. International bus travel site Busbud just made taking the bus anywhere in the world easier by providing travelers with mobile access to over 325,000 bus routes worldwide, making its app the largest mobile aggregator of bus travel in the world.

The new Busbud Android app is free to download from Google's Play Store and gives access to thousands of inter-city bus routes across four continents. The app features:

- Compare bus tickets in thousand of cities across the United States, Canada, France, Spain, Brazil, and Mexico
- Book roundtrip tickets in one go
- Use your current location to browse nearby cities and popular routes
- View results in 9 languages including English (US/UK), French, Spanish (ES/MX) and Portuguese (PT/BR)
- Keep track of your travel history and details
- Save trip details for fast and convenient booking on your next trip
- Receive email confirmation immediately upon checkout
- Share itineraries with family and friends
- Choose a currency from among US Dollar, Euro, Canadian Dollar, Brazilian Real, Mexican Pesos, Argentine Peso, Peruvian Nuevo Sol or British Pound
- Once you're signed-in, complete your booking in less than 60 secs

"Busbud gives travelers a seamless way to find the best bus route options anywhere in the world for their schedule and budget," said Busbud CEO and co-founder LP Maurice. "Our mobile development team took on the challenge of building an app that would impress users with clean design and fast performance, and they delivered! It's the most comprehensive bus booking app you can install on your phone today, and we're planning to roll out more innovative features during the next months."

Busbud offers more than one million international bus departures each week in collaboration with 1,500 operators, including Greyhound, New York Trailways and Boltbus. Notable Mexican partners include Autovias, Omnibus de Mexico and Primera Plus.

Recent news

As previously announced, Busbud had the pleasure to welcome new board members. PhoCusWright founder Philip Wolf joins as director of the board. Erik Blachford, former CEO of Expedia, and Doug Miller, chief revenue officer of LivingSocial and former VP of Expedia, join Carl Sparks, former CEO of Travelocity, and Luc Levesque, VP of SEO at TripAdvisor / Expedia, on the board of advisors. Last summer, Busbud received a $9M Series A funding co-led by OMERS Ventures and Revolution Ventures.

“Bus travelers crave a better booking experience, and the Busbud mobile app solves this pain point,” said new board of directors member Philip Wolf. “With ground transportation enjoying renewed growth in recent years, I’m excited to be joining one of the emerging leaders in this sector.”

About Busbud

Busbud.com makes it easy to find and book the perfect bus trip online. Busbud is the only worldwide bus travel booking website, offering more than one million departures each week across 1,500 operators worldwide.

Press contact:

Jessyca Roy Landry
Marketing & Communication
jessyca.roy-landry@busbud.com
514-279-4926